

Titan Corner

What awaits Future Titans?

“Many students are curious about the new experiences and opportunities that await them in high school. High school often means more independence, like moving between classes, having some control over their schedule, and even choosing electives or extracurricular activities. There are many more sports teams, clubs, and activities to join, which can be exciting for students who want to explore their interests further.”

Kenneth Cucchi III
Principal

What would you tell future Titan?

“Being a Titan means embracing every challenge with determination, integrity, and resilience. Stevenson offers endless opportunities, academically, athletically, and socially, so take advantage of them. Push yourself beyond your comfort zone, support those around you, and never be afraid to fail because that’s how you grow. Most importantly, embody the Titan spirit by leading with kindness, hard work, and a commitment to excellence. Your journey here will shape who you become, so make it count.”
